

STUDENTS REGISTER FOR SCHOOL BOND ELECTION TODAY

Resident students and faculty of San Jose State college may establish voting eligibility by registering today in the Dean of Men's office (room 1) between the hours of 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Dean of Men Paul M. Pitman has announced that Mrs. T. W. Bland, chairman of the citizens' committee in charge of Santa Clara county registration, will be available on campus for one day only to register voters for the school bond election set for February 17.

The bond election will determine whether or not public funds will be made available for construction of a new San Jose high school, and other public school buildings.

Voters registering at this time will not be required to register for subsequent city, general primary, and general elections. Registration will remain valid until such time as the voter fails to vote in the general elections or changes resident standing.

George M. Downing, director of special services, San Jose, has listed the following registration requirements:

- (1) Residence in the State of California for one year.
- (2) Residence in Santa Clara county for 90 days.
- (3) Registration in advance of 40 days preceding the next scheduled election.

Deadline for voters desiring to register for the school bond election is 9 p.m. Thursday evening, according to Mr. Downing. The registration office in the court house will be open from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday to accommodate late registrants, he said.

... Tempus Fugit! ...

JANUARY, 1933.—The College of Pacific has gone "hog wild" for a novel system of dating, by the organization of a "Gigolo Club." Young men will rent themselves out for the evening at the nominal sum of 75 cents for informal affairs and $1.50 for formals. What next?

NEW ASB CONSTITUTION EXPECTED NEXT MONTH

San Jose State college's revised constitution may be ready for student body balloting in the February mid-year election. This hope was expressed by members of the revision committee, headed by Beverly Clay, after the Student Council meeting Monday night. Miss Clay, who was appointed chairman at the Monday session, plans to meet with her group every day of the week, if necessary, in order to complete the re-writing and re-wording of the old constitution. Faculty advisors are Dean Paul Pitman and Dr. Leo Kibby.

"It is the general feeling that the present constitution is for an institution of pre-war vintage one-half the size of San Jose State college," said Dean Pitman. "Weaknesses which have been brought out through past experiences will be uppermost in the committee's mind as it proceeds in a step by step method."

Various types of cheating have been listed by the Examination Fairness committee for purposes of analysis, revealed Hal Riddle, student member of the committee, in a report to the council. Among them are included premeditated cheating, carrying "ponies" to class, and unpremeditated cheating, glancing at another's paper. Penalties are to be set for each type of cheating, and the case will be brought to the attention of the student-faculty fairness committee.

Definite recommendations for coping with the problem and a decision as to who will have the final word in the cases will be offered by the committee soon, according to Elmo Robinson, chairman. A cheating poll taken by one of Dwight Bentel's journalism classes is to be used by the group.

The council adjourned to the home of Dean Helen Dimmick for dinner after its early session.

Gregory Receives French Posters

The office of Dr. Boris Gregory resounded with admiring exclamations yesterday, when Dr. Gregory opened a package from the French Consul General in San Francisco.

The package contained a number of posters depicting scenes in France, some of which were the Strasbourg Cathedral, Notre Dame de Paris, and the Place Vendome.

FILE REVISIONS

Any revision of membership lists or organizational constitutions since November 13, must be filed with the Student Court by January 30, announces Chief Justice William N. Logan.

Article 5, section 4 of the Student Body by-laws requires such revised lists to be filed with the Court every quarter.

Wall Tells Rules Governing Student Health Procedure

To clarify the procedure used in securing benefits and to promote a more extensive use of the McFadden Health Cottage, or the College Clinic, the following rules have been made by the Health Cottage Board to be followed by students desiring its use, announced Tom Wall, member of the board.

1. For illness or injury report to the College Clinic, room 31. (A student body card is not required.)
2. To use the Health Cottage you must be a student body card holder and carrying more than six units of work.
3. You must obtain approval of the College Physician (room 31) for admission to the McFadden Health Cottage. No exceptions.
4. Emergency cases when the clinic is closed are to be handled by a private physician or nearest available hospital. Private physician and hospital care are at the student's expense.

"The Health Cottage is maintained with student body funds for student use. If you are sick, use the cottage. After all, it is your service," Wall stated.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Announcements to appear in the Spartan Daily must be submitted on blanks which will be supplied in the Spartan Daily office, B 93, not later than 1:30 p.m. on the day preceding publication. Absolutely no announcements submitted after this hour will be accepted for publication the following day, according to Editor Jack Silvey.

Truck Injures Two Spartan Students

James Campbell, 20, and Gerald Emerson, also 20, both students at San Jose State college, were slightly injured in an auto-truck accident Monday.

The accident occurred when the auto in which the two students were riding collided with a gasoline truck at the Eighth and San Fernando streets intersection.

LEAP YEAR DANCE IN GIRLS' GYM

The Junior class, apparently being the first to swing into the true spirit of leap year, are sponsoring a "girl ask boy" dance in the Women's gym Friday evening, according to Joan Polek, chairman of the Junior dance committee.

The theme of the dance is "Spinster's Spree." Dancing will be off-the-record, and Miss Polek promises that the newest recordings will be included in the program.

The dance is sport, according to the dance chairman, and will cost 30 cents each for ASB card holders, and 50 cents a person for those without cards. Tickets will be sold at the door.

Patrons at the dance will be Mr. and Mrs. Weaver-Meadows, Mr. and Mrs. Shirley and Dr. and Mrs. Alexander McCallum.

Miss Polek urges the girls to get their men early for the dance. "It's perfectly legal this year," she emphasizes.

AWS Meets Today To Plan Dance

The Associated Women Students will hold their first meeting of this quarter today at 4:30 in room 24, announces Virginia Luke, publicity chairman.

Dean of Women Helen Dimmick will be the guest speaker and will speak on campus customs. Plans will be discussed for the Valentine dance which will be held February 14.

Examination Appointments

The following persons are requested to report to the Health office by Thursday, January 9, to make appointments for completion of the physical examination:

Douglas Anderson, William Andrade, Stanley Aurich, John Bennett, Arthur Butler, Richard Campbell, Richard Carlisle, Carl Anton Coerss, Harry Theodore Dallas, Don Day, Dorothy J. Emley, Sheila Flynn, Raymond Forsyth, Lloyd French, and John Bernard Gallagher.

CONGRESSMAN PLEDGES AID ON VETS' CHECKS

Either Loren Mowrey or C. E. Winston of the San Jose sub-regional Veterans' Administration office will make weekly trips to San Francisco to check VA files for us, announces Miss Josephine Roose, who is handling veteran affairs on campus.

"We believe that there are many veterans whose entitlement, pay status and various paper affairs connected with the VA are at present in a somewhat confused state," says Miss Roose. "Will all those who haven't received their October or November payments, or letters of eligibility, please report to room 18, and this will give us an accurate count of how many students at San Jose State college have not been paid to date."

Paul Pitman, dean of men, has been corresponding with Congressman Jack Z. Anderson in Washington, and Col. T. J. Cross, regional head of the VA, in an effort to obtain long overdue subsistence for veterans enrolled at this institution.

Dean Pitman states, "There are at present approximately 50 men that we know of who have not as yet received their government checks for the month of October."

Monday afternoon representatives of the San Francisco VA office called on Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, college president, and Dean Pitman. About 25 names were cleared and checks should be in the mail for them soon.

Yesterday the dean received a telegram from Anderson, affirming his (Anderson's) pledge to do everything he could to expedite the payment of veterans, and inquiring if Dean Pitman had heard from Colonel Cross as to the status of veterans on the local campus. This indicated that he has been in touch with Col. Cross.

Mu Delts Meet

Members of Mu Delta Pi will hold a meeting this evening at 7:30 in room 119, according to George Willey, president of the group.

They will discuss plans for this coming quarter and members are asked to be present as this is the first meeting for the winter quarter.

BREATHING ROOM?

A challenge is confronting civic-minded Spartans this morning: Today is the last chance to register, on campus, for the coming municipal election on a bond issue for public education. This election hits closer to Sparta than most elections, for it can mean the eventual beginning of our long delayed expansion program.

The bond issue is to provide for the most pressing needs of the San Jose public schools, in the next few years. One of the most urgent needs of the local school system is the building of a new high school. It has been estimated by school authorities, that if this bond issue is carried, San Jose State college will be occupying the present sites of San Jose High and San Jose Technical High schools within the next five years.

Ordinarily, any election should gain participation from the majority of adult students, but this election concerns Spartans so significantly that they should make special effort to exercise their franchise. Those people on college campuses can get first hand information about public education needs, and should be deeply concerned. This election gives Spartans something long hoped for—space.

San Jose State college students are aware of the numerous taxes already paid into governmental coffers. Anyone who makes a purchase in a local store has noticed the two sales taxes collected; parking meters, entertainment, automotive, income, and innumerable hidden taxes that cut quite a swathe in meager income checks. Since Spartans contribute so much of their livelihood to tax collectors, they should take advantage of this opportunity to voice an opinion on how their pennies are spent.

Registration for the forthcoming election is being held in the Dean of Men's office today. Help relieve the crowded conditions by giving San Jose a new high school, and San Jose State college some breathing room.

BITS OF BANTER

By ABNER FRITZ

"We've heard it on the radio a thousand times the last few years. We've seen it and doubted our own eyes, as in hundreds of football games all over the country, the right halfback has completed the anatomically impossible feat of running around his own left end, or vice versa.

Try it sometime. It's not easy, whether you use the single wing, as did Michigan's Wolverines in teaching USC how to play football in seven easy lessons (i. e. seven touchdowns, and seven conversions), the double wingback used on occasions by Southern Methodist's Mustangs and Penn State's Nittany Lions during their encounter in the Dallas Cotton Bowl, which ended in a 13-13 tie.

Or perhaps the T formation, as practiced by friend Lujack and the conglomeration of eastern stars as they ran roughshod over the poor battling, valiant, but outclassed western stars.

It doesn't matter what formation or lineup the teams use, or who runs, or stays put, it just doesn't seem quite right. And those people who witnessed most of last week's magnificent bowl games, were well aware that it wasn't their particular hangover that made them wonder, whether or not the left half could run around his own end.

While the pigskins are being tucked away and while the halfbacks, fullbacks and quarterbacks are going to give away to basketballers all over the country, it seems time to offer this consolation to protagonists of west coast football in general and the Pacific Coast Conference in particular: Somebody has to lose almost every football game played, and usually the inferior team is the one on the short end of the count. Now what was the score of the Pasadena fiasco last Thursday?????

THRUST AND PARRY

PUGET

Dear Thrust and Parry:

In reading last Friday's Spartan Daily, I was glad to read that Athletic Director Tiny Hartranft confirmed the fact that San Jose State will play Stanford University on the gridiron on September 18, 1948.

But I was sorry to read that there was a possibility of San Jose State also playing such low-ranking football teams as Cal Poly and the College of Puget Sound. Why does San Jose State have to meet such weak teams as Cal Poly and the College of Puget Sound?

Certainly, the football prestige of the Spartans will not be enhanced if they badly trounce these weak sisters. Many students that I have talked to agree with me that Cal Poly and the College of Puget Sound are not worthy enough to be included in San Jose's football schedule. Perhaps Cal Poly and the College of Puget Sound may be able to give a good account of themselves against the Spartan freshman team, but certainly not against the varsity.

All in all, I hope that it is not too late, and the Spartans can avoid playing these two weak sisters. Please, Mr. Athletic Director, don't include Cal Poly and the College of Puget Sound in San Jose's 1948 football schedule.

X-RAY TRAILERS

TUBERCULOSIS DRIVE STARTED BY OBSCURE DANE AND AMERICAN SOCIAL WORKER IN EARLY 1900s

By BOB BODEN

A familiar sight to members of the Spartan clan is the silver truck and trailer X-Ray unit of the National Tuberculosis association.

Once again, Saturday, the unit moved on campus to aid in physical examinations given newcomers to San Jose State college.

Roaming the nation; penetrating to even the most remote reaches of these United States, X-Ray units are spearheading a never-ending fight against the white plague. But how many students who have benefitted know how the fight began?

HUMANITARIAN EFFORT

It has taken 44 years to build a solid foundation for this humanitarian effort—44 years from its conception in Denmark in 1903.

Eirne Holboyle was an obscure Danish postal clerk. Each winter, as icy fingers would grip the land tighter and tighter; cut deep into the bodies of tuberculosis victims and over-shadow health-giving sun, Eirne's heart would go out to the stricken as death walked among them. This poor postal clerk longed to do something about it.

Why not make a special stamp and at the same time raise money to help the victims of tuberculosis, he thought.

In 1910 Eirne Holboyle saw the first sanitarium erected—a sanitarium paid for by an inspiration. From that day the work gained impetus to spread far and wide in the name of humanity.

U. S. BEGINNING

In the tiny state of Delaware, Emily Bissell, an obscure social worker, heard of the Seals. In 1907, with a borrowed $40 and dogged determination to help the people of her community, Emily Bissell set out to raise $300.

For her money she received a batch of stamps bearing the Patriarchal cross (still the outstanding symbol of the Christmas Seal). Sales went slowly at first, but as the cause registered with people of Delaware, the idea caught on. Emily Bissell gained ten times her monetary goal and started a movement that has become an integral part of humanitarianism.

Today, services of the National Tuberculosis Association stretch even onto the campus of San Jose State college bringing the latest wonders of science to ferret out the white killer—set it in full retreat.

SANITARIUMS NUMBER 600

Led by the Tuberculosis Association and supported in the main by the yearly seal drive at Christmas time, over 600 sanitariums now exist in the United States. From the meager beginning by Emily Bissell in 1907, the Seal drive has grown until last year it grossed over $5,000,000.

This year, in Santa Clara county alone, $40,000 has been collected. Ivar Sivertsen, 1947 Seal Sale chairman, expressed confidence that the $50,000 goal will be reached through late returns.

Farsightedness of Emily Bissell and Eirne Holboyle, coupled with the know-how of modern science and the dollars of Mr. Average Citizen, has forced the white plague to retreat from its place as number one killer to a slipping seventh.

The fight is not won! Tuberculosis still is a great menace, but the sale of every seal slowly is spelling doom for the white ghost.

HEALD'S LOSS--SPARTA'S GAIN

When a male student steps through the doors of the Health Office these days, chances are he'll soon forget his aches and pains and re-develop that old gleam in his jaundiced eye.

The reason for this sudden loss of self-sympathy will no doubt be Miss Anne Zotta, vivacious, attractive and brunette, who has just signed on as full time secretary in the Health Office.

The dark-eyed young lady graduated from Heald's Business College in December, and immediately came to work at Washington Square. Though Miss Zotta never attended school here, her family name is quite familiar on Sparta's campus. Three of her four sisters, Rosemary, Matilda and Carmella, attended San Jose State, with the latter two earning their diplomas here.

A fourth sister, Terry, is the only one to keep herself entirely free from the Spartan campus. The five sisters are all natives of San Jose.

PROUD PAPA GIVES THANKS

"My wife and I think the gifts are wonderful and we wish to thank the merchants of San Jose for their contributions and the Spartan Daily for sponsoring the contest," stated John Sproat Monday when his wife returned from the hospital after presenting him with the baby that won the "Spartanette of 1948" contest.

The infant, Barbara Jeanne, 6 pounds, 9 ounces, was the first child born in the new year with at least one parent enrolled at San Jose State college. Gifts from San Jose stores were offered the winner. Barbara Jeanne was born 6 a.m. New Year's Day at the Community Service Hospital. Mr. Sproat is a sophomore social science major.

HERE'S THE DEAL

By BARNEY BARNETT

We were looking for Tom Rowen down on Post Street the other afternoon when we ran into Hook McCross, an old college chum from our pre-war years.

"I'm right glad to see you," he mumbled through his mouthpiece.

We murmured a greeting.

"How about posting me on the latest events since I left," he requested.

We knew of nothing of interest so asked him what he was doing.

"I've been working at odd jobs that's about all. Been on my uppers lately, nearly fainted from hunger a couple times.

We expressed sympathy.

"You wouldn't happen to have a dime in your trunks?" he said in a pleading tone. "Resin I ask, I just about lost ropes of finding any roadwork."

We extended our contribution.

"Thanks a lot. See you round. Tape it easy, give me a ring." Bidding us farewell he dashed for the Dixie Belle tavern.

PROF RAPS KNUCKLES

A recent Spartan Daily story, "Rodents vs. Humans in Rat Race," contained two unpardonable errors — claims Instructor Rocci G. Pisano of the Natural Science department. He immediately penned a forceful letter to the Daily.

"...due to a fear the city of Los Angeles may some day claim San Jose within its city limits prompts me to apologize to that fair southern city. The article should have read that the coke-drinking Norway rats were photographed in a southwestern state — not in Los Angeles," Pisano wrote.

Pisano's attempt to correct the second error proved his great modesty. He wrote, with profound sympathy, that "the second correction is to offset discouragement which may arise among the future naturalists that Dr. Duncan, Smith, Heath, and other fine instructors here in the Natural Science department are striving to develop.

"I suppose when they read that I had completed an economic study of these rodents, they were ready to give up because not much more was left for future study," the instructor emphasized that he had finished but one phase of the economic study, allowing ample opportunity for the scientific achievements of his colleagues.

WINTER SLUMP IN ENROLLMENT

With 78 late registrations recorded yesterday and 38 on Friday, the population on Washington Square now stands at 6401, according to Joe H. West, registrar.

The total enrollment for winter quarter is expected to level off at a figure near 6325, Mr. West estimated.

PORTAL SCHEDULES THE ANNUAL ALL COLLEGE BOUTS AT CIVIC AUD

By BARNEY BARNETT

Boxing Coach Dee Portal has decided to hold the complete All-College tournament Friday night at 8 p.m. at the Civic Auditorium.

Portal declared that he wished to present only boxers whose ability has been proven in previous bouts.

"In order to have the tournament run for two nights, as previously planned, I would have been forced to have some promising but inexperienced men compete," he explained.

Portal also revealed that Wayne Fontes and Bob Anderson will not enter Friday's tournament thus encouraging less experienced boys to enter the 165 and 145 lb. division. The two PCI champions are slated to put on an exhibition for Friday night's crowd.

AGUIRRE vs. TOWNSEND

A stellar battle is on tap in the 130 lb. class when rugged Rudy Aguirre and Spartan Charlie Townsend square off. Both these boys are holdovers from last year's Pacific Coast Championship squad.

Hard hitting Jim Nutt, who showed well in the Novice tournament, will be meeting Nick Diaz in the 160 lb. class.

Portal announced that he is especially looking for more entrants in the 112, 118, 145, 165 lb. classes as well as the heavyweight division.

Also scheduled for unveiling on Friday evening, is the new Portal scoring system featuring the clock that Fontes built.

The tentative schedule:

- 112—Not set at present.
- 118—Not set at present.
- 125—Jimmy Johnson vs. Mike Riviera.
- 130—Charlie Townsend vs. Rudy Aguirre (exhibition).
- 135—Dale Bryan vs. Ken Cayocca.
- 155—Jack Nelson vs. Jim McDonald.
- 160—Jim Nutt vs. Nick Diaz.
- 165—Not set at present.
- 175—Pete Franusich vs. Paul Farris.
- 175—Raul Diaz vs. Ira Ross.
- Heavys—Don Schaeffer vs. Jim Curfman.
- Heavys—Rod Richardson vs. Jack Schebeuris.

SPARTAN NETMEN START TRAINING

Though two men have been lost from last year's squad, prospects for the Tennis team are a little better than usual. The Spartan Field courts have been resurfaced and more practice on the faster courts should help the team considerably.

Lost for this year's squad are Greg Sargent who is working full-time with the San Jose Police Force though still a student, and Bob Brokop who transferred to Modesto J. C. Returning lettermen Gene Franco, Don McKenzie, Dave Parnay, and Ed Terry should be the nucleus of a fairly strong team. Chet Bulwa who played some last year and has improved considerably will undoubtedly help the team.

SIXTY NOVICES SIGN FOR FIRST MAT TOURNAMENT

By DAVE PARNAY

Sixty men have signed up for the first annual Novice Wrestling Tournament scheduled for Monday, February 1, in the Spartan gym. Interested students should sign up before January 26 in Ted Mumby's office.

On Friday evening in San Francisco the Varsity wrestling squad will meet the strong San Francisco Olympic Club. Led by three past or present AAU and Far Western champions, the Olympic Club should prove tough. Last year the Spartans won a hard fought 18-15 victory. Coach Ted Mumby said yesterday that neither the Spartans or the Clubmen are in top condition and that the team which weathered the holidays in the best shape should win.

MISER vs. NORTHRUP

The evening's feature match will see three-time national champion in the 160 pound class, Doc Northrup, face San Jose's Ray Miser. Ray was Junior AAU champion last year.

Other Spartans who will probably see action are Freddie Albright, Far Western AAU champion in 1942, at 136 pounds, Bill Rothwell, Bob Gates, Ralph Payne, Phil Bray, Pat Felice, and either Hal Kidder or Val Marchi, heavyweights.

This meet will be the first in which the Spartans have competed according to the weight classes to be used in the Olympic Games in 1948.

FROSH TRACKMEN SHOW PROMISE

Freshman track practice will begin Feb. 2, according to Freshman track coach Bud Winter, in preparation for the Freshman conference indoor meet to be held in the Cow Palace at San Francisco in March.

Outstanding men on the Freshman squad are George Mattos, pole-vaulter, Keith Edwards, sprinter; David Psaltis, shot put record holder; Richard Honnell, shot put; Johnny Henzill, high jumper; George Yonge, broad jumper; and Dore Purdy, miler from Lincoln high.

SPARTANS INVADE RENO FOR TWO CASABA GAMES

By JOHN GOTHBERG

San Jose State's cagers move into Reno Friday night for the first of a series of two games with the University of Nevada Wolfpack. The second contest will be played Saturday.

Last week the Nevadans downed the Nebraska Cornhuskers by a 63-58 score for one of their greatest accomplishments of the season. The have recently defeated a strong Brigham Young five by one point and lost to the Kansas Jayhawkers, 52-45.

The Blue and White aggregation is led by Captain Grant Davis, a speedy forward and ace shooter.

Last year the Spartans were successful in defeating the Wolfpack twice on the local hardwood. However, from all indications the Nevada boys are stronger this season than last.

Coach Walt McPherson will probably start Chuck Hughes at the pivot spot against the Reno boys. Bob Wuesthoff and Ralph Romero, who both played brilliantly in the two week end games, will be likely starters at the guard positions.

Stu Inman and Bob Hagen, who have given exceptional performances since the start of the season, will go in at forwards.

Saturday night's battle with Nevada will be the last hurdle the San Joseans have to make before meeting Santa Barbara college in the first CCAA tilt here January 16.

SPORT QUICKIE

One of the greatest upsets in modern football history occurred in 1942 when the Crusaders of Holy Cross, victors in only three games all year, upset the nation's number one team, Boston College, by an astounding score of 55-12.

SAN JOSE TRACKMEN RECEIVE BID TO INDOOR MEET AT S.F.

A letter from the Olympic Club of San Francisco just received here by Coach Bud Winter stated that there would be an indoor track meet either at the San Francisco Cow Palace or at the Civic Auditorium there sometime during February or March. Coach Winter, therefore, has issued a call to his men to begin training February 2.

However, as this is an Olympic Games year, Coach Winter stated that several of his men have begun to limber up for the rigorous season ahead. The coming Olympic Games have also caused the schedules of important meets to be moved up.

The Spartan tracksters have but two home meets so far. They are the interclass and the COP meets. Coach Winter is trying to arrange a home meet either with California or the Olympic Club. The schedule is not yet complete and won't be released until next week. The first dual meet is with Stanford university at Palo Alto in April.

Two meets have been set and moved up ahead of last year's dates. They are the Santa Barbara Relays scheduled for March 31, and the Long Beach meet set for March 13.

Several promising transfers have been enrolled at San Jose State. They include Bob Herrick, Glendale College quarter miler, Odo Camerotto, broad jumper from San Mateo; Melvin Martin, Chico State high jump ace; Jerry Greene, hurdler from Santa Monica College; and Robert Turley, Santa Ana JC broad jumper.

BENTEL RETURNS IMPRESSED WITH "VARITYPING"

"A desire to improve the American newspaper was the major theme stressed at a convention of the American Association of Schools and Departments and the American Association of Teachers of Journalism," said Dwight Bentel, head of the Journalism department, yesterday.

The convention, which was held in Philadelphia, December 28-30, was attended by publishers, editors, outstanding writers in the newspaper field, and journalism teachers.

"On the way back I stopped off at Chicago where there is a newsprint strike in progress," said Bentel. "I saw the Daily News producing a newspaper by a new process called varityping. In this process the typewritten line is used for newspaper reproduction instead of cast type."

"Silver Threads Among the Gold"

Workers in the College Cashier's office yesterday afternoon forsook ledgers and double-entry book-keeping to celebrate the 33rd birthday of Graduate Manager William Felse.

Remnants of cake and liquid refreshment were still discernable late in the afternoon.

Felse, greying at the temples, assumed a stern air and stoutly insisted he is still a "young man." The office staff sent him a birthday card and gift.

Director Lines Up Revelries Cast

Director Joe Juliano, as a result of last night's tryouts, now has a cast in mind for the 1948 Revelries. Tryouts for the 15 major speaking-singing parts, the chorus, and dancers, were held last night in the Morris Dalley auditorium.

"There will be a lot of real talent in the show," Juliano predicts. "We have a good cast this year and the show looks big."

Announcement of the parts will come out soon, he added.
